foreword

If this book portrays a complete and accurate picture of university life; if it holds within its pages the memories of this swift and vital year; if it is a record that will become increasingly valuable as the years go by, the staff of this, the 1934 Millidek, will feel that its efforts have not been in vain.

J. M. U.-ITES

Five J. M. U.-Ites were named by the Decaturian this spring in observance of a tradition established 19 years ago. These were selected from the senior class by a committee of juniors consisting of Pauline Requarth, chairman, Marianne Williams, William Requarth, and Wayne Schroeder.

Lloyd Baird was named the first J. M. U.-Ite in the Class of '34. He had been prominent in intramural athletics and was the business manager of the Millidek during his junior year. In 1933 he was president of his class and also of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

On February 9 Revarose Wallins was announced as the second J. M. U.-Ite. Her interesting and varied career in scholastic activities has included work on the Millidek as freshman editor and now as senior editor and also feature and society writing for the Decaturian during her four years at college. She is a member of Pi Mu Theta, Conant, Y. W. C. A., and Le Cercle Francais. She served as president of Delta Delta Delta during 1933. This year she received a silver Kappa key, having an average of 3.89 for her past three years in school.

The third J. M. U.-Ite was Frank Henry, president of Alpha Omega and the Student Cabinet. In the past four years he has been prominent in dramatics and in intramural sports. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon.

Marna Radford was added to the list of J. M. U.-Ites on April 13 because of her outstanding and untiring work in music. She has served as accompanist in countless musical programs in Decatur and nearby towns, representing Millikin as Millikin likes to be represented. She is a member of W. A. A., Pi Mu Theta, Y. W. C. A., and Sigma Alpha Iota.

Lois Sayre was chosen as the fifth and last J. M. U.-Ite. She has served as editor both of the Millidek and of the Decaturian. She has appeared in several Town and Gown productions and has been active in Y. W. C. A., Pi Mu Theta, Le Cercle Francais, and Panhellenic. This year she received a Kappa Key.

INTERNATIONAL NIGHT

The old custom of International Night was revived by the language departments this year. April 24 was set as the date, and the whole third floor of the university was transformed into a sort of carnival, World's Fair, and museum all in one.

French and Spanish exhibits occupied adjoining rooms. Across the hall a barker waved crowds into the French room where living tableaux of famous characters from French literature were being staged on an improvised platform. At one end of the hall Spanish movies were shown.

The main attraction of the evening was the International Cafe which opened at 9:00. Wine (grape juice) and beer (root) were served by French waitresses. A German band, directed by Wolfgang Kuhn, held forth while an artist sketched the customers (a la World's Fair). A floor show, consisting of a tango, a German folk dance, "L' Amour", and "Two Hearts in Three-fourths Time" appeared at intervals.

ORCHESTRA

The Millikin University Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Harold Hess and Mr. Jose Echaniz, as guest director, has done some very outstanding and satisfactory work this year. Five years ago the orchestra had six members; now it has 40. Two concerts have been given this year in Decatur, and one at Maroa, Lexington, Riverton, and Alton. One of the most outstanding things the orchestra has done has been the presentation of a three-piano concert, a very unusual performance for any group and one seldom done.

Following is the program given by the orchestra, March 2:

Overture, "Der Freischutz".....C. H. von Weber

CONANT SOCIETY

OFFICERS

Vice president ..... Norma Magnuson
Secretary and treasurer ..... Dede Ann Shull
Faculty advisers ..... Miss Davida McCaslin, Miss Charline Wood

In 1920 the English club was established by Dr. Grace Patton Conant for English majors. In 1927 the organization was renamed The Conant Society in honor of Dr. Conant. Meetings are held once each month.

This year the plan has been to arrange the programs around a central theme to present an appreciation of literature from the viewpoints of individuals from various outside fields of cultural activity. Speakers have included Mrs. Madelyn Smith, Professor A. T. Mills, Mrs. L. C. McNabb, Rev. Owen W. Pratt, and Dr. James A. Melrose.

Conant also has sponsored a verse choir under the direction of Mrs. L. C. McNabb. It was composed of sixteen students and four professors whose voices were of the right quality. All forms of poetry, from nursery rhymes to Psalms, were recited in unison. Such choirs, not common in America and comparatively new in Europe, really go back in the idea of group-speaking to the choruses of Greek dramas with their solo, response, and unison parts.

Meetings are held once a month at various sorority houses. They consist of a business meeting, program, games, songs, and refreshments. All conversation is in French. At Christmas time Miss Ross told about Christmas in France. Jesse Wagus read the story of Saint Nicholas, and Helen Ruth Chodat read the Christmas story from an old French Bible.

During the year the French club sponsored the German picture "Two Hearts in Waltz Time". The money made from it was later used for an International Night. A patriotic tea was given February 8, in which the French colors were used.

In the second group of programs Dr. Owen W. Pratt spoke on the personal aspect in seeking religious understanding. Other speakers were Professor Mills, Miss Flora Ross, and Mrs. L. C. McNabb.

The Home Economics Club, one of the first of its kind in the United States, was organized in December, 1909. It not only enables students of the department to keep up with the advances in the science of home economics, but it also fosters the development of leadership and programs along lines not possible in class.

Regular monthly meetings are held with varying types of programs. Once each year members act as hostesses to the High School Home Economics Club. In 1911 the club inaugurated the first of the campus teas which are now held every Thursday by the various organizations of the University.

The Millikin club is affiliated with the American and State Home Economic Associations and this year sent a delegate to the national convention in New York.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN

OFFICERS

President ..... Hazel Nichols
Vice president ..... Virginia Baker
Secretary ..... Dorothea Sanner

The organization of Independent Women owes its origin to the victory gained by the Indees in the girls' basketball tournament six years ago. The group was officially organized two years ago under the leadership of Mrs. Harold Hess, dean of women.

For the fifth successive year the Independents won the girls' basketball tournament. To celebrate the victory a dance was given with the Independent men on March 23. Another dance was given later in the spring. Regular meetings of the group are held once a month.

TOWN AND GOWN

The Town and Gown Players, under the directions of Professor Leroy C. McNabb, has presented three major productions this year. "Your Uncle Dudley", a romantic comedy, was given at Homecoming time. The cast included Grace Moore and Robert Wait, both of whom have been prominent in Millikin plays, and two new actresses, Jessie Lockett and Dorothy Sullivan. "The Swan", the play in which Eva La Gallienne made her first hit, was presented in March. Mildred Langbehn, Alan Easterling, Bushrod Sattley, and Milda Shatlene had the leading parts. Later in the spring Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice" was produced with Professor McNabb and Norma Magnusson in the leading roles.

The Town and Gown Players were established in 1930 under the direction of Mr. Rupel Jones, Miss Janice Meredith, Miss Davida McCaslin, and Miss Winifred Minturn. Several plays each year are put on by this organization which is composed of town and university people.

This year the Tekes placed second in inter-fraternity basketball. They also won second place in the Homecoming parade. Frank Henry has been president of both Alpha Omega and the Student Cabinet and was chosen as a J. M. U.-ite. Maurice Murfin and Loise Cundiff are also officers of Alpha Omega. Wayne Schroeder and Robert Linn are members of the Student Cabinet.

A rushing dance in September opened the social season for Tau Kappa Epsilon. This was followed by the annual Harvest Hop in November and a Christmas formal. Spring events were a dinner-dance and a May breakfast.

The Tekes gave an all-university tea at the chapter house in December. Black and silver decorations and favors were used. A three-piece orchestra furnished music for dancing.

The 1933 Millikin football squad, in many ways the most remarkable of all Blue and White teams, finished its season as one of the four unbeaten teams in the Little Nineteen conference. Only one game was lost during the entire season, that to St. Louis University in the opening game at St. Louis. Three ties and three victories completed this rather unusual record.

Under the guidance of Leo Johnson and "Hank" Gill, the team operated without an elected captain throughout the season. However, at the end of the season, the "M" men named Allan Russell of Chicago and Danny Dever of Metropolis, the only two seniors on the team, as co-captains for 1933.

RUSSELL

DEVER

1933 Co-Captains

Russell and Dever, who alternated at quarterback and fullback, both turned in some great performances while working with a fine machine, characterized by its willingness to submerge personal individual style for that of the team. After electing their co-captains for 1933, the "M" men then picked Johnny Heinlein as captain for the 1934 team. Johnny will be playing his final season for Millikin.

Russell and Earl Weise appeared to be Millikin's best threats in the backfield, Russell making several long and complete passes to either Weise or those two sensational ends, Davis or Giraitis. "Bud's" defensive work was also outstanding. Weise improved rapidly during the season and was named all-conference halfback on one of the U. P. teams. Giraitis was given second-place mention as an end.

Perhaps the most impressive thing to most fans throughout the season was the diminutive size of either end of Millikin's line. Davis, weighing about 147 pounds, hauled down many a charging backfield man. Giraitis, on the other end, weighing about 165 pounds, was great defensively besides being especially sensational in his ability to snag passes.

One of last year's veterans, Don Lauher, put up several fine exhibitions at tackle. He showed great improvement over last year. He had the fight it takes to stop the big boys. Joe Rolinaitis' toe proved fully as accurate as ever this year and many times he converted points after a touchdown.

Fawley and Heinlein, tricky pony backs, showed flashes of their old power at times. Especially flashy was Elmer's fancy returning of punts in the Millikin-Wesleyan game.

Fred Christman was a tower of strength in the line and played his finest game against Ripon. Paul Lipinski, Freshman guard, played competently before he received an injury. Herman Mehmken and Mellroy Ross always had a good game under their belts. And Walt Rademacher just about played a lone hand at center.

Earl Weise Skirts Wesleyan's Left End

Millikin's lineup this season was seldom intact, especially in the backfield, where Fawley, Russell, Trainer, Dever, Weise and Heinlein all gave creditable exhibitions. Although missing the great defensive strength of George Musso from last year, the small, but fighting line held their opponents, except St. Louis, to only one touchdown.

The 32 to 0 score of the Millikin-St. Louis game hardly tells the real story. The Blue gridders put up a great struggle until worn down in the closing stages of the game. Only 13 points were scored by St. Louis up to the final quarter.

In driving rain, Millikin won their first home game from Beloit College, 13 to 0. The Big Blue's next opponent was literally swamped, the victim being Quincy College, 65 to 0.

One of the high points of the season was the surprising showing of Millikin against the strong Wesleyan eleven. The Blue outplayed the Titans during the major portion of the game, particularly in the last half. Two very strong J. M. U. threats fell a little short and the rivals ended the game in a scoreless tie.

By taking advantage of a bad punt, Millikin scored against the DeKalb Teachers for their only Little Nineteen win, 7 to 0.

Ripon journeyed to Millikin again and for the second successive year the two played to a scoreless tie. Ripon is scheduled to reappear in the 1934 season and with another good team should provide an interesting game.

HEINLEIN
1934 Captain

The season was closed with the Blue playing Bradley at Peoria. After leading through the first three quarters, Millikin faltered and allowed the Techmen to earn a 7 to 7 tie.

Following are the 14 players who received football letters for 1933: Co-captains Allan Russell and Danny Dever, Captain-elect Johnny Heinlein, Fred Christman, Loyle Davis, Elmer Fawley, William Giriatis, Don Lauher, Paul Lipinski, Herman Mehmken, Walter Rademacher, Joe Rolinaitis, Mellroy Ross, Dean Trainer, Earl Weise.

Fred Newton and Dale Bell were the two student managers of the 1933 eleven.

As a complete reversal of last year's record, Millikin's basketball team came through during the 1933-34 season with one of the finest showings in recent years. Only six games were lost during the season, with the Blue coming out victorious in nine of the tilts. Millikin was fifth in the Little Nineteen conference.

The feature of the team was the fact that three freshmen were among the first six of the squad. Outstanding among these, in more ways than one, was Delmar Cox, six feet four inches tall. These six feet four inches enclosing 180 pounds proved to be the backbone and spark for a fine basketball team. During the course of the season Del collected 166 points; 61 field goals and 44 free throws, finishing third in the conference individual scoring. In only the Dekalb game was Cox held without a field goal. As far as scoring is concerned, his best performance was against St. Viator when he collected 21 points. None of the witnesses of that final Wesleyan-Millikin battle will ever forget his 15 points in 15 minutes.

Following Cox in the scoring was sophomore Melvin Goldman. Goldie played a consistent game all season and came through with 39 baskets and 10 free throws for 88 points. His game this season was a fine showing of defensive as well as a strong offensive record.

Next was another freshman, "Jay-Ball" Glynn, one of the most aggressive players on the team. Jay managed to pick up 77 points during his first year in competition. His best performance was against Illinois College when he rang up 15 points in the last half.

Millikin, 36; Wesleyan, 28

Cox

In scoring ability, next came Walt Spilman, one of the two juniors on the squad. Walt annexed 69 counters during the season. After playing guard all during the first semester, Leo shifted Walt to forward and in two games he scored 12 points per battle. Then there was Bill Wright, the third first-year man. Wright was No. 1 utility man through most of the season and although he played only in parts of the games he came through with 40 points.

Goldman

The two guards, Archie Van Ausdall and Joe Rolinaitis, lopped in 38 and 36 points respectively. Van Ausdall played only during the last semester and proved himself one of the best guards to play on a Blue quintet in recent years. The way Van Ausdall "put the hooks" in "Lefty" Weger in that great Wesleyan game will long be remembered. Joe, in holding down Blazine, did equally as good a job and successfully climaxed a season of stalwart guarding. Joe's famous long shots came at very timely moments.

Although playing only in parts of games, Hallahan, Cochrane, and Weise showed good performances during the season.

Glynn

Millikin journeyed out to Iowa for its opening game and fell before the powerful Big Ten team, 47 to 27.

The conference season was opened at Jacksonville where the Blue beat out Illinois College in a thrilling overtime game, 33 to 30.

In its second non-conference game, Millikin traveled to Cape Girardeau, Mo., to play the Cape Girardeau Teachers. After leading through most of the game, the Big Blue faltered and the Teachers came through with a win, 30 to 26.

Spilman

In the first home game of the season, Eureka journeyed to Decatur and suffered a stunning 38 to 27 setback. Then, playing against the conference leaders, DeKalb, Cox was unable to hit his stride and Millikin lost, 27 to 18. Bradley came to Decatur and went back home feeling there wasn't much they could do about this Cox boy; Millikin, 33; Bradley, 26.

McKendree came to the armory with a small team, unable to stop the Big Blue and suffered a 44 to 20 loss. Wesleyan, with Weger running wild, beat Millikin at Bloomington, 56 to 33. It was one of Millikin's worst defeats, if not the worst. With the Wesleyan defeat still in mind, Millikin journeyed to Macomb and lost a close contest, 42 to 40.

Wright

Illinois College, with its two high scorers, Lasiter, six feet nine, and Jim Winn, proved to be Millikin's next victim, mostly because "Jay-Ball" couldn't miss! The final score was 45 to 33. St. Viator was another fairly easy game and the Millikin boys took them at Decatur, 35 to 29, and a week later beat them there, 37 to 31. Bradley turned out to be a bit tougher at Peoria, but Goldie came through and Millikin took them in an overtime game, 42 to 38.

Van Ausdall

Eureka surprisingly took the measure of the Blue at Eureka by the close score of 46 to 42.

The stage was then set for the final game. Wesleyan needed to beat Millikin for a tie for first place in the conference, and Millikin was anxious to keep its home record clean and also to avenge an earlier defeat. The two rivals tied up on March 1, for the last game of the season. It was a classic from the word go. With Cox, Van Ausdall, and Rolinaitis leading the way, Wesleyan didn't have a chance. The final score was 36 to 28.

Rolinaitis

We want to congratulate Leo Johnson on building up such a fine team. No seniors were on the squad and a great team is predicted for next year. The 1933-34 lettermen included Melvin Goldman, Jay Glynn, and Dan Hallihan, forwards; Delmar Cox and Bill Wright, centers; Joe Rolinaitis, Walter Spilman, and Archie Van Ausdall, guards.

INTRAMURAL ATHLETICS

Another extensive and pretentious intramural program was attempted at Millikin during the past two semesters under the direction of Wayne "Hank" Gill. Greatly successful in last year's program, Hank planned an even better schedule for this year, and it was marked with a spirit of fine fellowship as well as good entertainment for the onlookers.

Again the program was divided between interfraternity, interclass, and individual competition. On the same basis as that previously used, points were awarded to the respective champions and place winners.

Large crowds witnessed both interfraternity basketball and the boxing and wrestling matches. Awards were made at the close of the year in a chapel called by Hank Gill.

The personnel of the intramural department was as follows:

Director ..... Hank Gill
Assistant director ..... Karl Grohne
Intramural manager ..... John Mey
Publicity ..... Forrest Kyle
Chief official ..... John Mey

Class managers were the following:

CONTESTS

As was the custom, the intramural program opened with diamond ball, the competition being between fraternities. The games were held behind the gym on the diamond, laid out last year. Six games were played with the three competing teams each playing the other twice. Sig Alphs came out on top, getting a good start for their second successive championship in the league.

Along with diamond ball came the individual competition in tennis and golf. Duane Garver, a small but mighty Freshman, set back all competition to win the championship in tennis. Garver proved his worth in competitive play by losing very few sets. He won the Class B tennis championship of Decatur in 1933. Another young Decatur star took first place in the golf meet. This was Jack Wright, freshman, well known about Decatur for his exceptional ability on the links.

As the weather turned colder, sports turned to the inside, and the next event was indoor interclass baseball, which was handily taken by the Juniors, piloted by Everett Schlie and Al Eubanks.

Interclass basketball tournaments were held next. The Sophomores, last year's winners, were again undefeated and so successfully maintained their championship standing. The Sophomore squad included Rademacher, Grohne, Kyle, Mitchell, Mehmken, Lauher, Baima, and Trainer.

In interfraternity basketball, Sigma Alpha Epsilon retained their last year's championship by winning five of their six games. In the deciding game, the Sig Alphs defeated the Indees, 21 to 20, in the last few minutes. Members of the winning team were Majors, Russell, Munsie, Rademacher, Heinlein, and Kyle. The second-place Indee team consisted of Grohne, Trummel, Schlie, Lauher, Mehmken, Baima, and Dougherty.

Volleyball was the next event and in the interclass competition the Juniors won. The Indees took the fraternity championship.

Boxing as interfraternity competition was captured by Sigma Alpha Epsilon with Wright, Weiss, and Lewis winning their bouts. Individual champions in boxing were named a week later. Following are the results of competition up to the start of spring activities:

Interfraternity:

Diamond ball	S. A. E.
Basketball	S. A. E.
Volleyball	Indees
Boxing	S. A. E.

Interclass:

Basketball	1936
Volleyball	1935
Indoor baseball	1935

Individuals:

Tennis	Duane Garver
Golf	Jack Wright
Foul shooting	Perrine Thompson

Boxing:

Unlimited class	Joe Rolinaitis
Heavyweight	Bill Giriatis
Light heavyweight	Paul Lipinski
Middleweight	Bud Lewis
Welterweight	Jack Wright
Lightweight	Bill Beck

As this book goes to press, both of last year's group champions are again leading the procession.

The Sig Alphs, Indees, Tekes, and Delta Sigs are standing in that order, while the Sophomores are first in interclass competition, followed by the Juniors, Frosh, and Seniors, in the order named.

On the spring program are included interfraternity competition in tennis, golf, horseshoes, indoor baseball, wrestling, baseball and track; and interclass tennis. Champions of wrestling and outdoor all-around champion have yet to be crowned.

W. A. A. has been active in sponsoring several athletic tournaments this year. These have included contests in tennis, ping pong, shuffleboard, and basketball. The sale of candy and apples at the football games was sponsored by W. A. A. Two pledges from each sorority on the campus were chosen to do the selling. Social events have included several potlucks and a spring dance in the gym.

NEW PROGRAM OF ATHLETICS

A new program of athletics for women has been sponsored by Miss Corder this year in which more variety has been obtained. Each girl was given a choice as to the type of physical education she preferred. Elementary tennis which changed to elementary basketball as the weather became colder was offered, while another class included advanced tennis and basketball. For the first time a special class in folk, clog, and tap dancing was given.

Faculty women and faculty men's wives have enjoyed a gymnasium class which Miss Corder has organized for them with meetings on Wednesday evenings from 7 to 8 o'clock. Their work has included such games as ping pong, shuffleboard, tennis and basketball. The following group of them formed a team: Mrs. Marguerite Zimmerman, Elizabeth Wiley, Velma Davis, Mrs. Dorothy Bell, Bobbie Corder, Ann Louise Welch, and Mrs. Mollie Baker. They succeeded in defeating a team composed of Jeannette Knotts, Ruth Curry, Bertha Nicholls, Gladys Wiseman, and Elizabeth Groves by a score of 15-7.

BASKETBALL

The annual girls' basketball tournament between organizations on the campus was started on February 13th with the Pi Beta Phi team being defeated by the Delta Delta Delta girls with a score of 21-0. The Alpha Chi Omega team was defeated by the Independents by a score of 17-5 the same evening.

The next series found the Tri-Delts winner over the Alpha Chis by a score of 23-5 and the Independents victors over the Pi Phis by a margin of 24-3. The Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Chi Omega game resulted in a 20-14 score in favor of the Pi Phis. The final contest gave the Independent girls the title when they defeated the Tri-Delts with a total of 16-6. This was their fifth title in as many years.

Stephenson, Baker, Vannier, Alderson
Sanner, Davis, Sattley, Langbehn, Nichols

HOCKEY

The annual Freshman-Sophomore hockey game which always comes at Homecoming time and has been a custom for more than 20 years was not played this year.

PING PONG

The ping pong contest which was completed about the 15th of November drew a large number of participants. Emily Jane Wood was the victor with Lenore Stephenson as runner up, while Cynthia Conklin and Lois Holmes were included in the semi-finals. Other entrants included Virginia Baker, Jean White, Ruth Rohrbaugh, Hazel Nichols, Miriam Nash, Gladys Nims, Janet Alsip, Mary Catherine Graves, Mildred Langbehn, Justine Schudel, Genevieve Rink, and Betty Kaiser.

SHUFFLEBOARD

Starting in December just before the Christmas vacation and ending in January following the holidays, the shuffleboard tournament was played off with Mary Beth Blain as the victor, and Lois Crawford, second. Lenore Stephenson and Mary Birt were included in the semi-finals. The other participants were as follows: Rita Kell, Dora Hewitt, Jean White, Betty Martin, Betty Kaiser, Janet Alsip, Catherine Carey, Emily Jane Wood, Virginia Baker, Cynthia Conklin, Elizabeth Groves, Ruth Rohrbaugh, and Annabelle Kagy.

TENNIS

Under the sponsorship of W. A. A. and Miss Bobbie Corder, the Little Nineteen tennis tournament for 1933 was staged on this campus. Millikin was host to women from Wheaton, Carthage, Charleston, Illinois College, Eureka, Bradley, Normal, North Central, Shurtleff, and Carbondale.

Hazel Nichols and Doris Warren represented Millikin in the singles, while a team including Marjorie Johnson and Ruth Helm entered for doubles.

Bernice Hightower of Carthage placed first in singles, with Katie Conte and Thelma Matershead of Carbondale winning the doubles awards. The Wheaton girls were runner up in both the singles and doubles. The Millikin doubles team, composed of Johnson and Helm, won semi-final awards.

During the second week of school a fall tennis tournament was sponsored for Millikin women. Hazel Nichols defeated Jean White by a score of 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, to become the winner. Mary Beth Blain and Muriel White reached the semi-finals. Other entries included Virginia Baker and Lenore Stephenson.

Breathing in his freedom
With his little upturned snout.

With what grave admonitions
His fond parents send him off
To lose his inhibitions

To play football with fewer damns
And still be strong and mannish—
To fatten up his little hams

To the tune of papa's money.
Will he come out wiser, kinder?
And the answer is baloney!

THINGS THAT FRESHMEN FIND OUT FOR THEMSELVES:

About the students:

J. Mey is not some kind of perfume, but a handsome, bashful senior.

Miriam Nash is one of those rare types who not only makes all A's, but makes A's on exams.

Marj Wheeler has innumerable Lost Loves to whom she has dedicated many reams of poetry.

Betsy Atkinson has the saddest eyes and the best looking clothes in the school.

Marna Radford is never seen any place but at the Conservatory or with Bob Noland.

Lois Sayre has edited the Millidek and the Decaturian.

Bernice Scott will argue with Mr. Mills over any point of English history.

Drexel Mey makes violins.

Wilma Burwell never goes to chapel.

Jean Timm will go ice skating, bicycling, or violet-plucking at any hour in the day.

Norma Magnusson is pals with the English department.

Barbara Clippinger has the world's best figure.

Winnie White would be the assistant in the botany department if she were a Teke.

Margaret Stewart is never seen without Cynthia Croxton.

Revarose Wallins is an active member of Tri-Delt, an active member of French Club, an active member of Spanish Club (if there were one), an active member of Panhellenic, an active member of Pi Mu Theta. That is, Reve is active.

About Millikin politics:

The Student Cabinet is an organization which prevents railroading of elections.

Upperclassmen will tell you what to vote before you go into chapel to vote on something important.

Alpha Omega and Pi Mu Theta are the senior honorary fraternity and sorority.

About time-honored institutions:

The O. B. Gorin library is unique in that it is used as a place to study.

(The word "library" is used in this sense as a place where books are kept. And by "kept", we mean kept.)

The Decaturian is the weekly Millikin paper (published weakly), in which is printed the news of other colleges and lists of books kept in the library. (This is evidently to let us know that behind those knob-less doors are enough books to be stood on shelves instead of between book ends.)

Students may have a mite knocked off their tuition by sweeping and dusting the classrooms. And so the floors are always clean and shining. And the chairs are always spotless.

Alpha Chi Hallowe'en dance — Masks courtesy of Mother Nature.

T. K. E. Haymaker's ball — Entertainment.

Being close to the end of the month, there are rumblings within the executive ranks of the Sophomores and Freshmen concerning the anticipated duel. The Freshmen's target seems to be Karl Grohne, the prexy, while the Sophies aren't a bit particular.

*

Headline: Millikin Professors Take Cut.

Voice from depths (where Freshmen fall during Dr. White's lectures on How to Study), "How come I haven't heard there's a professor's cut day?"

Grohne's in the office
And Cobb is in the jail;
Mercurochrome is everywhere—
But hear it in detail:

ROUND I

Grab the hose! Get Newton!
We gotta win this war!
Hey! That's me you're socking!
What the hell—my pants are tore!

ROUND II

I wish it wasn't quite so cold.
My glasses! Oh, my dear!
I hate to hit you quite this hard.
The end, thank God, is near.

ROUND III
(Feminine angle)

I really think it's shameful
For the boys to fight like this—
C'mon, I'm going closer;
It's much too good to miss.

ROUND IV
(From either side)

Well, boys, you fought like Trojans;
It's too bad we had to win.
Who won. We won! We'll prove it.
We'll just fight this fight again.

SUGGESTION FOR NEXT YEAR'S BULLETIN

ENGLISH HISTORY—Something new and different for Sophomores, Juniors, or Seniors. Not only does one get lectures on churches, economic men, and whatnots, but an exhilarating and instructive talk on the sex life of an ant. (The recent cut in salaries probably has caused Mr. Mills to be thinking of church mice.)

*

Bus Mitchell doesn't mince any words in explaining how he was the hero of the Freshman-Sophomore touch football game, which the Sophies won, 13 to 0.

Object lesson No. 1—Why we should not study outside of class.

See the gym teacher.
The gym teacher's name is Bobbie.
Right now Bobbie does not have a class.
She is keeping in shape by running around the track.

See the ladder in the corner of the balcony.
Bobbie has just fallen down the ladder.
Bobbie has broken three ribs.
Heaven knows how many other injuries she has.

*

ODE TO A RADI (ator)

Old Faithful was no lady.
She must have come from Hady.
Old Faithful could shower with a capital S.
(Decaturian staff—yeah, man!)
Barth: "Showers bother my bookkeeping."
Beek: "Pity her, Dave—she's weeping."
Old Faithful has been fixed — (Inadequately)—with a capital I.

The latest game for keeping students off the streets after curfew involves eight steps:

(1) Goldman, Glynn, Daugherty, and Wright gather at Kaiser's.

(2) Send Wright to work.

(3), (4), (5), and (6) Dougherty calls four girls on telephone, says he is Bill Wright, that he thinks they're awfully pretty, and that he'd like a date Saturday night.

(7) All four girls accept.

(8) Taylorville, Decatur, and Co. roll on floor laughing.

Purpose: To walk as slowly as possible and still get to 8 o'clocks on time.

Result: They do it.

Mademoiselle Fraulein Ross once more gives her talk on "Christmas in Paris" to the seventh or 20th annual Christmas meeting of Le Cercle Francais.

Pledge Munch actually dances at S. A. E. dance. For one with so little experience, he did rather well on the two numbers he attempted: a waltz and Tiger Rag.

Mary Weisner is now taking dancing lessons from the old master, Christison, who has given enough lessons at the Pi Phi house.

Among the many Teke-Alpha Chi doubletons: Coutant and Johnson whose claim to fame is their midgetacy (patent No. 2875316789054321 on the word).

*

Of course, all we ever know about the basketball team is what we read in the newspapers (local ones, not the Decaturian, since its policy excludes the publication of sports) but we understand that if we will be real good little girls and boys, Papa Leo may let us see the Blue Boys in action! But we have to wait till after Christmas. And New Year's Eve is in the dim, dim past. The dimmer the better.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION FOR NEXT YEAR'S BULLETIN

"Come to Millikin. Go to school four years (or four and a half). Start searching frantically for a job just before the sheepskin-presenting ceremony is about to be pulled off. The Decatrian will surely make you a J. M. U.-ite. Then you will get a job teaching school."—Refer to Lloyd Baird.

(Enter Mrs. McNabb, bowing and smiling. Takes position on soap box at front of stage. Loud applause.)

(Enter choir in black robes and home-made collars, very nervous.)

(Clearing of throats.)

Basses: Little Miss Muffett,

Tenors: (basses in slight falsetto) Little Miss Muffett,

All: Little Miss Muffett,

Coloratura sopranos: (You know as well as we what they are) Sat on a tuffett . . . tuffett . . . tuffett . . . tuffett,

Others: (Now that the thing is well started) Sat on a tuffett,

All: (With exhiliration) Eating her curds and whey (in monotone) whatever that is.

Basses: (With crescendo, to add to the mystery of the thing) Along came a spider . . .

Sopranos: (Squealing) And sat down beside her.

All: So she got up.

(At this point the audience is supposed to either laugh uproariously or gasp to think that the choir can do things to the emotions with such a tender little nursery ditty.)

Mrs. McNabb takes bow from soap box.

SUGGESTION FOR NEXT YEAR'S BULLETIN

Course in Theater Ushering—One of the biggest and best (and freest) courses in Theater Ushering will again be given next year. The class will meet every time Millikin's own Katherine Cornell, Katherine Stadler, performs in Town and Gown plays.
